A Hawaiian Official in Trouble. In a recent North German newspaper, we find, to the French loan, the name of G. H. Levita, a subject of Hesse, and holding the position of Hawaiian Consul at Antwerp. The punishment for this offence is imprisonment, not to exceed the parties arrested had petitioned King William for mercy, but the Kaiser replied sternly, "Let justice take its course." Now here is a chance for our Foreign Office to distinguish itself. A dispatch to Bismarck, judiciously worded in the well-known fascinating style of non-committalism in which the Minister is so skillful, would undoubtedly prove an open sesame for unfortunate Mr. Levita-who we confess we never heard of

OUR NEXT NEWS, may be brought by the clipper ship Mataura, which was to leave San Francisco for Hongkong from Jan. 21st to 28th.

THE HOTEL PROJECT .- By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that a meeting of the good, bad or indifferent, about the annual parade of subscribers to the Hotel Bonds is called for Wednesday next, 15th inst., at 11 A. M. at the Finance A NEW COASTER .- We notice that the brig Kamehameha V, having been thoroughly refitted, has been placed on the Hilo route as a regular packet, under command of Capt Reynolds, commencing her matter of wages, at all events. Or, perhaps, now THEATRICAL -Herr Bandmann continues to draw "David Garrick," he was evidently at home in lighter and less difficult parts. An excellent bill is offered for to-night. NEVER MIND THE STOWAGE.-The other day a gang of men were at work stowing the cargo of the Count Bismarcic, which has since sailed for Hamburg. The boss of the job being rather particular, one of the men remarked, "Oh, never mind the stowage; it has all got to be broken out again at

A BILL OF ITEMS .- Two Chinamen in the Police Court-one sues the other for a pork and sausage bill, of several months standing. Counsel for defendant demands a bill of items of the account, and is blandly furnished by counsel for plaintiff with two TO CARRY ON THE BUSINESS; Chinese characters. Tableau.

> A DELICATE OPERATION .- On Tuesday last Dr. McGrew performed an operation for stone in the bladder, at the American Hospital. The patient was a young Hawaiian of foreign parentage, in feeble health, and chloroform was administered. The stone extracted was of an oval shape, 21 inches in length by 14 in diameter. At last accounts the lad was

Nor KILLED .- Some time ago it was reported here that Captain Von Gossnitz, formerly a resident of FOR SALE.-THE COTTAGE ON THE Honolulu, had been killed in the present war. We learn that a letter from the Captain has recently been received here, stating that he had arrived in front of Paris and joined the Saxon Army shortly FURNISHED COTTAGE TO LET AT, after the last grand sortie of the French. His rank was that of Lieutenant.

> NEW POSTAGE STAMPS .- The Postmaster-General has received some new postage stamps from the National Bank Note Company of New York, of the denominations of one, six, and eighteen cents. The vignettes are extremely well done, being respectively those of Her late Royal Highness Princess Victoria, His Majesty the King, and His late Highness M Kekuanaoa. The latter especially is a striking likeness of the Father of Kings.

New Sidewalks .- The neat and substantial appearance of the sidewalk recently laid down in front of the new Post-office building, has led to its being extended along in front of the book-store and the office of this paper, thus making a dry and substantial walk on a part at least of the most frequented thoroughfare. The opposite side of the street will soon be similarly provided. We hope to see the healthy contagion spread in other parts of the city

DROWNED AT SEA .- A short time before the ar-IN 1-2, 3-4, AND 1 INCH CARTRIDGES, rival at this port of H. B. M.'s S. Scylla, Wm. Chippins, captain of the main top, fell overboard and was drowned. The body was recovered, and brought to Honolulu for interment at the request of the shipmates of the dece ed, by whom, both officers Sale of Buildings, and Lease of Land place last Friday, and the body was followed to the Nuuanu Valley Cemetery by a detachment of the crew, and a file of marines fired the usual vollies over the grave. A CHINESE KILLED -Last Tuesday morning, a little after 4 o'clock, a horse tied to a post in a yard on Maunakea street, getting frightened at some object, started away, dragging the post with him. Rushing down Maunakea street at a furious pace. near the corner of King, in turning the corner the swinging post struck an old Chinaman, named Sien Kieu, full on the back of the head, felling him to the ground and fracturing his skull. He died during the forenoon, and was buried by his countrymen. THE ST. ANDREWS' MAGAZINE .- This is the title of a new monthly, the numbers for January and February of which have been laid on our table. The Rev. C. G. Williamson, Rector of St. Andrews, in this city, is the Editor, and in its preface declares that "principles, not prejudices, will dictate its religious views." The initial number is a very creditable one, the selections showing taste and care, and the illustrations and typography are good. The terms are $3 per annum in advance, or 40 cents single copies. We wish success to the "St. An-

REFUSED WORK .- The crew of the coaster Mary, bound for Kauai on Monday afternoon, refused work on the ground that a sufficiency of food had not been provided for the trip. The men being under con-HAS RECEIVED PER MOSES TAYLOR, tract, they were brought defined investigated, it appeared that the complaints of the men were well peared that the complaints of the men were well founded, the fault, however, not being with the owners, Messrs. D. Foster & Co., but caused by the negligence of the captain, who was entrusted with the victualling of the vessel. The matter was compromised on the suggestion of the Magistrate, and the men went back to their duty, with the understanding that the Harbor Master should be umpire as to what was a proper quantity of provisions to go on a trip with.

ALL ABOUT A BABY .- A curious story comes from Lahaina, "the second city of the Kingdom"- at least, it was once. It seems that an infant died there last week, and suspicions were entertained that it did not die a natural death. The coroner, (who is also the sheriff) impanneled a jury, which jury re-turned a verdict to the effect that said suspicions were groundless, whereupon the coroner ordered the body to be interred. The judiciary, for some reason not yet apparent, here interfered, and forbad the burial. The executive (i. e., the coroner) refused to pay any attention to the order of the judiciary, whereupon the latter fined the former $25 for contempt. Executive failing to see it or come down with the stamps, was sent to jail. Now comes in the military, and takes the executive out of jail. And so the matter stood at last accounts—the executive, the judicial and the military of the second city considerably mixed. It is further reported that judicial off No. 2, kindly offering his services to judicial officer No. 1, in order to " settle the hash," received a hint more forcible than polite, delivered a posteriori, that his interference was not required.

FROM THE FIJIS .- By favor of Captain Dayton of the schooner Maggie Johnston, from the Fiji Islands, we have received copies of the Times, the only newspaper published in the group. There is nothing of very particular interest to note in the papers. A good deal of attention is devoted to the culture of cotton, for which the soil and climate of the islands is peculiarly well adapted. But the great obstacle is the scarcity of labor. Fiji natives will not work, and the sole dependance is on kidnapped natives of the New Hebrides—a puny insignificant race. There is talk of introducing Chinese coolies. But there is no government in the islands, beyond the mere word of the chiefs, no laws and no means of enforcing laws were they to be made, and the settlers appear to be not a little divided among themselves. Tha-kombau, the King, offered the inhabitants of Livuka -the principal foreign town-a charter for their self-government, but when they met to adopt it, a squabble arose, as the majority were arraid to entrust the government in the hands of an elective council of seven property holders, and dreaded that the establishment of a police force would result in tyranny! The King of Fiji just now stands in need of a Ricord to frame a code of laws, a Lee to organize the judiciary, and a Wyllie to make treaties. We hear that a North German Consul for Fiji is on his way out from Berlin. How would a German Protectorate, a la Tahiti, suit the malcontents of Livuka?

The Constitutional Question "Nailed."

On Tuesday last, judgment as of the full bench of the Supreme Court was filed in the case of Burdick vs. Rhodes and Lemon. This was a case of trover to recover a balance of account for rent due and goods sold and delivered. Defendants claimed as a set off, a bill against plaintiff for spirituous liquors furnished at retait. Plaintiff pleaded as a bar to the set off, the statute law of 1868, making illegal the collection of such bills. Defendants argued against the constitutionality of the statute, and on this question hinged the whole case. The decision fully affirms the constitutionality of the law, and sets the question at rest.

and has been pretty fully ventilated by a "Star"

The case has attracted considerable attention, correspondent of the Gazette, to whose inane and intemperate lucubrations on the subject we have before aliuded. While we have refrained from commenting upon the merits of the case so long as it was in the hands of the legal tribunal, now that the decision has been given in full by the Judges, the seal of reticence is removed, and we frankly say that in our opinion, a sounder or more righteous decision has never been prosounced by our Courts. And indeed, no person of average reasoning powers, unless wilifully blinded by self-interest like the irrepressible and rampant Mr. *, could have come to any other conclusion than that which has been now placed on the file of Supreme Court decisions. But alas for the correspondent of the Gazette! What becomes of his vaporings about "widows and orphans." "reformed or confirmed drunkards, and so-called Good Templars?" Gone, all gone, like the baseless fabric of a dream, and made no sign. He has all the sympathy we can afford under the circumstances, and for any further quiet. consolation let him appeal to his "confirmed" ones, and in groggy conclave let this second Deacon Giles enter up his solemn protest against | 000 prisoners.

these Daniels come to judgment. We congratulate the country upon the new Court,-the highest legal authority of the land. -is fully alive to and carefully and fearlessly determined to uphold the legal safeguards which have been set over the moral and social interests Judges, good order and safety are secure. The decision will doubtless be published in full in the official Gazette, but we transcribe here a few of the more salient paragraphs. The trenchant words of the Court are more to the point than any that we could substitute : "When the license was taken the provision of law had been in force for some years. The licensee knew perfectly well that he could not recover for liquor columns. Having received reinforcements, he desold on credit, and in this case it is in evidence by termined to strike another blow to retrieve his forthe defense that the plaintiff told the witness (who by the party himself, and yet he continued to sell to relief of Paris. the plaintiff in most ruinous quantities.

"This law is in the nature of a police regulation of 150,000 men, the whole under the supreme comfor the prevention of drunkeauess, and the principle of legislation is sustained by numerous authorities. (Cases cited.) "It is a wise provision of law, as it is a constant reminder of the cost of intemperate habits. "The bill claimed as a set off is the best evidence that very precautionary measures should be taken to save the poor victim of intemperance. "This provision is undoubtedly within the spirit of the laws which have been recognized as valid in States where the Constitutional provisions and statutes bearing on this question are analogous to our own. All Courts agree that the construction of the Constitution by the Legislature, as given in their Acts, ought to have great weight, and not to be overruled unless manifestly erroneous. (Cases cited.) "It has been truly said by an eminent American statesman, 'That it is a question not yet satisfactorily settled how far and in what way the law of the land can be applied to remedy and mitigate the tremendous evils of intemperance.' And this is one of the wise provisions which protects a man who has lost his self-control, and indulges to an excess even to drunkenness. It is a grave offense in morals to sell nate slave of this appetite it is the duty of the Legislature to do. Society has great faults which are visited upon these unfortunate victims. "The laws of this Kingdom are as liberal on the community. In many countries the sale is prohibited. or under very severe restrictions. "The counsel contends that this is a case of mutual recoverable at law, and the other an illegal claim and upon which a suit cannot be entertained."

MR. EDITOR :- While the Legislature of 1870 was in session, many of the Acts while under debate excited public attention, but I question if many of your readers have looked into the volume the result of their labors, entitled, "Laws of His Majesty Kamenamena V King of the Hawaiian Islands passed by the Legislative Assembly at its Session, 1870." It is a curious volume. Its first page contains three bad mistakes, its second page two, and a hasty examination of the book has shown me twenty errors of spelling and printers' mistakes, to say nothing of grammar. It may be claimed that all of the errors are attributable to the printers, but the repetition of the same mistake makes it doubtful if tract, they were brought before the Police Court on | the framer of the laws knew how to spell, as (vide much on the errors, though there are enough in this volume to warrant a reprint of a correct editoin, but ductive of serious trouble hereafter-also to suggest

Did the Legislature really intend to give the absolute ownership in any unbranded animal that might happen to be running wild and at large on any land in this Kingdom, to the owner of that land, though the owner of the animal might be abundantly able to prove his ownership? So it would seem. Page 37.

solemnized. Page 82. In view of the foregoing plain statement of the palpable and serious defects in the printed edition of the Session Laws of 1870, the only proper course for the Department of Law to pursue, is to promptly advertise, inviting tenders by responsi-ble and practical parties, for the reprinting of the entire edition; and, in the mean time, calling in all the copies which may have been issued. As to the blunders made by the law-makers, they must of course remain until the next session, but the blunders of that "reliable" concern, the Government Press, can and ought to be correct-

state my conviction that he has the mark of death in his countenance." Loxpon, Jan. 13 .- Le Mans was taken, and is now occupied by the Third and Tenth Prussian Corps. BERLIN, Jan. 12 .- Count Bismarck is preparing a circular showing that the abundant and unprecedented victualing of Paris, at the very time of the proof afforded by this decision that the Supreme refusal of Germany's most liberal proposal for an armistice, fully proves that the French leaders never seriously contemplated entering into negotiations leading to peace.

LONDON, Jan. 14 .- The N. Y. Herald correspondent, writing from the headquarters of the Army of of the community. With sound and independent the Loire at Le Mans, at midnight, the 11th, gives the following particulars of the second day's battle between Chanzy's force and the German army under Prince Frederick Churles. He says : This has been one of the most eventful days in the history of France during the present war. This is probably the most eventful battle fought since the struggle began, and closed at nightfall this day.

himself. They were apparently 100,000 strong. Soon after 10 o'clock sharp firing was opened by the Prussians from well located batteries on the left of the French. It was replied to with spirit. Very soon a large force of German infantry flanked by cavalry, advanced under cover of a heavy artillery fire, striking the right of Admiral Faureguiberg's position.

The assaulting column was met by a ferce artillery fire from many guns, including a number of mitrailleuses of a new pattern. The struggle was severe and well contested; but although the Germans suffered heavy loss, they finally succeeded in driving back the French, capturing two gans and holding as important position near the river.

Gen. Chanzy perceiving the danger which threatened his position, moved forward his reserves of to one in this condition ; still it is done, and all the artiliery to support Admiral Fauregulberg's. The one is a legal claim, and French centre was driven back, when it retreated slowly and in good order, for a short distance only, to a position in the rear of that first occupied. where rising ground afforded good facilities for ortillery. Here Chanzy's force of guns was posted. which, manned by marines, opened a severe and well directed fire on the advancing enemy. This not only checked the Germans but compelled them to fall back in turn.

A beavy counter-fire was soon opened from the German batteries which, during the engagement, had advanced to a commanding position on the left of the railroad. The superiority of the German guns in firing soon became apparent. After an unequal duel the French fire slackened, the Germans causing great loss to the French lines. Still the French infantry maintained their position heroically, and another attempt to dislodge the enemy signally failed.

For some time the engagement had the character of an artillery duet, but when the German lines had taken the position assigned them, a more active attack commenced, evidently with the object of cutpage 33), "striking" is spelled "stricking" twice.

tired in good order. London, Jan. 14.—A treaty between Prussia, Russia and the French Empire is talked of, based upon the following terms: 1st, the moderation of the commercial treaty of 1860. 2d, the Oriental question to be henceforth regarded as a secondary matter by France. 3d, that the portion of Belgium known as French Flanders be annexed to France in lieu of Alsace, Lorraine and Luxenbourg to be annexed to Germany.

It is supposed that the latter proposition will satisfy the amour propre of France and reconcile the people to restoration. The restoration of the Regency and the old Legislative Assembly are much talked about. it is said the restoration contemplates a close alliance with Prussia. Bismarck has recently been apdid it know that it also struck out the clause requiring a License. As the law now stands, no license is necessary to be obtained before a marriage can be splemyized. By a 20 ment to confirm the terms; we will not interfere with the internal uffairs of France; if, on the other hand, the temporary Government is inclift wickedly to prolong this wicked war, we will be willing to treat with the Empire, which has not yet been constitutionally set aside."
